

Our home has been receiving more and more calls just in the little over 2 months we have lived here. The most annoying thing is that I have been getting them first thing in the morning, often as early as 8 a.m.! I do NOT get up that early and I get very irritated by this and have requested several times to either speak with a supervisor or to be put on a do not call list. A few times I have been hung up on in the middle of this request and once they refused to connect me to a supervisor, telling me that a request like that wasn't important enough to transfer! I truly believe that there should be some type of national registry that you can put your number on and that would totally prevent telemarketing calls forever! If not that, then telemarketing should be illegal. I cannot tell you how many ruined days I have had from being awakened early in the morning. Thank you for listening!
